JUNIOR SPORT

INTRODUCTION

Partnerships with various stakeholders is essential in ensuring the organisation of inclusive and integrated sports programmes for able and differentially-abled citizens of the Province. The establishment of Junior Sports Structures in the various regions accelerated the delivery of sustainable sports programmes focussed on the development of healthy lifestyles among the youth. These programmes had targetted learners outside of school hours in association with federations, municipalities and community based organisations. The following Junior Sport Programmes, which had taken into consideration our Provincial Priorities, had been successfully undertaken at local and district municipality levels.

1. JUNIOR DIPAPADI

To realise their full potential children need to be exposed to physical activities at a very young age. Super start and play sport programmes, which are components of Junior Dipapadi, offered children this opportunity. It was an active - child focussed initiative which promoted the emotional, social and intellectual development of children.

This programme, which targetted 4 – 8 year old children, included creative ideas about games and simple activities that celebrated individuality within various cultures and contexts, promoting the inclusiveness of children with special needs. It was about active play, involvement of all, empowerment, enjoyable participation and having lots of fun.

Junior Dipapadi promoted effective human movement, healthy and balanced lifestyles, personal beliefs and values, improvement of relationships, practise of life and decision making skill, access to potential and talents and respect to human rights.

100 000 of our children had been actively involved in this very intensive programme in all four of our regions, viz. South Coast (Isidiya, Ingqalabutho, Umgababa, Amazibu); Umlazi (Imisebe, Tholisu, Inselelo, Isidingo); Maphumulo (Vuma; Enyokeni; Bonginkosi, Esihlushwaneni, Umphumulo, Mbitane, Ochemi, Sibanisethu).

2. YOUNG CHAMPIONS

This programme had been initiated by the Honourable State President, Mr. Thabo Mbeki, and targeted areas that had high crime rates across the country. In Kwa Zulu Natal, KwaMashu had been chosen as a pilot area.

The aim of the programme had been to get youth off the street by involving them in sporting activities – hence reducing crime and encouraging mass participation in sport.

Children's participation in Football, Netball, Volleyball, Basketball and Boxing had been used as a tool to eradicate crime in our communities. A "coach the coaches" programme had been held where 50 coaches from 8 wards were inducted in the 5 codes - two coaches per code per ward had to attend. A festival, held in February 2006, had been the culmination of this very effective and enjoyable programme.

Approximately 700 learners are engaged in this pilot programme. The year 2006 – 2007 will see this programme introduced in all four regions where the slogan, "A child in sport is a child out of court" will be adopted. This programme has been undertaken in eight wards in Kwa Mashu.

3. DREAMS AND TEAMS

Dreams and Teams is a programme that uses Sport to help young leaders (14 - 19 years) enhance their citizenship, event management and organisational skills as well as promote inter-cultural understanding.

The Department of Sport and Recreation, in partnership with the British Council and the Department of Education, have 14 active links with UK Sport Colleges. The 14 local schools (within the greater Metropolitan area) have also adopted another 15 local schools in the programme. There are now 29 schools in South Africa that are actively contributing to the growth of the Dreams and Teams programme. These schools are situated within the following areas: Mpumalanga; Umlazi; Isipingo; Chatsworth; Kwa Mashu; eThekweni; Newlands; Inanda and Phoenix.

This year culminated with an International Festival held in May between the 29 local schools and the UK link schools. The programme for 2005/6 also trained additional Educators and Community Based Sport Officers to increase the support base. At present, there are 1000 trained young leaders, 152 tutors, 2 lead trainers, 15 community based sport officers, 140 young community leaders and 30 trained principals.

The pilot programme in the Ethekeeni Region proved to be a resounding success and plans are already in place to introduce the Dreams and Teams Programme in all four Regions – training in our four regions commenced in February 2006.

4. 2010 FOOTBALL TALENT IDENTIFICATION

With South Africa being awarded the 2010 World Cup, our Department, in partnership with the South African Football Association, the British Council and the Department of Education has embarked on a pilot football development programme. The aim of the programme is to equip 10000 young people (14-19 years) with skills to organise, referee and coach football to children (Under 12). In this way they will be developing their own skills as well as creating opportunities for thousands of children throughout the country. Prior to 2010 young leaders from the regions will host a Mini World Cup in the run up to the World Cup.

Our sports officers from the regions have undergone a well structured course facilitated by two Football Association tutors from the United Kingdom. By March 2006, approximately 3500 Junior Football Organisers had been trained in the Province and they have organised festivals for more than 20000 Primary School Learners.

Our regions had also undertaken very intensive Capacity Building and Talent Identification Programmes with clubs and associations affiliated to the South African Football Association. Approximately 200 technical officials had been trained and young football players in excess of 5000 had been involved in this programme.

The Prestigious "Premier's Cup" will create excitement and interest when introduced in 2006. This will be the culmination of a series of football talent identification and development programmes in the respective regions. It will also serve as motivation to the various regions to engage in high quality development programmes focussed on the identification of talent and thereafter nurturing this talent in order to be crowned provincial champions.

5. TOP LINKS PROGRAMME

Young people's involvement in purposeful activities in and out of school is strongly influenced by their perception of their own skill, personal competence and the knowledge they have gained which gives them confidence.

Top Link is a mechanism through which these key skills, social development and personal interest are nurtured. It can be used to empower young people, giving them ownership over an activity and an opportunity to deploy the skills they have learnt - a strategy to encourage mass participation in schools.

In partnership with the British Council and the Department of Education, our Department initiated a Top links Programme in the Midlands area hosted by Howick West Primary School. The first phase of the programme was the training of forty educators from primary schools. The second phase, held in February 2006, had been the training of the primary school children in the organisation of sports festivals for the top links programme.

Our target for 2006-2007 is 100 schools, 200 trained educators and 2000 trained learners. Approximately 10000 participants in each region are to be involved in this programme.

6. SOUTH AFRICAN GAMES 2005

The organisation of the South African Games 2005 had been entrusted with the Department of Sport and Recreation and the Ethekewini Municipality. This spectacular event saw over 10000 youth involved in ongoing trials in order to select a team of 450 participants. The KwaZulu Natal Academy for Sport together with the Federations thereafter initiated scientifically orientated training camps in order to assist the selected athletes to realise their full potential. 550 technical officials and 400 volunteers underwent accredited courses in order to equip themselves with the expertise required to administer the Games. The outstanding standard of organisation of the Games and the improved performance of our participants was a direct result of the above initiatives undertaken.

The KwaZulu-Natal contingent was represented in all codes and they performed exceptionally well. Special mention must be made of our DISSA football teams that excelled. The deaf and the physically disabled teams won gold while the intellectually-impaired team were runners-up. The overall winners were the Gauteng team, beating KZN by a narrow margin of 5 gold medals – a notable and remarkable improvement from the last South African Games..

7. FEDERATIONS

The establishment of a very close working relationship with the Federations has ensured the realization of qualitative sustainable development programmes in the various codes throughout the Province. These programmes included capacitating technical officials, training volunteers and targeted projects encouraging mass participation among 90000 youth in the Province. Much attention was focussed on the following priority codes: Athletics, Boxing, Cricket, Football, Golf, Gymnastics, Hockey, Netball, Rugby, Tennis, Table Tennis, Swimming and Volleyball. This programme also served the purpose of assisting the federations to identify and nurture the talent in the province with focussed attention on rural areas.

In order to address the issues of transformation, our Department works closely with Disability Sport South Africa in order to ensure inclusivity in as many of the mainstream activities as possible as well as co-ordinate and arrange development programmes for the different disability groups. Numerous programmes organised at regional level targeted 1200 children belonging to the different disability groups.

8. SPECIAL EVENTS

In addition to the above ongoing and intensive programmes our regions also engaged in special events which were highlights in our programme.

8.1 YOUTH DAY

The month of June focussed on numerous activities throughout the Province which targeted the need for development of active lifestyles among our youth. Our regions worked very closely with the various community based organisations, municipalities and federations in order to deliver these programmes. Approximately 16000 children had been involved in the Youth Day Celebrations.

8.2 CHILDREN'S DAY

Special Children's Day Celebratory programmes were organised at Waterloo, Verulam, Lousberg and Msinga (Pomeroy) where 8000 children were involved in fun-filled activities throughout the day. The purpose of the programme had been to highlight the need for children to be respected and treated with love and affection. The programme also stressed the need for children to engage in club activities so as to ensure their sustained involvement in sport. Programmes were also initiated to support the "16 Days of Activism against the Abuse of Women and Children". Approximately 5800 children had gathered in Steadville, Tsakane, Burford, Acaciavale and the Sicelokuhle School grounds to involve themselves in activity that highlighted the need for the protection of Women and Children.

8.3 HIV/AIDS PROGRAMMES

There is no doubt that Sport and Recreation has a unique ability to inculcate positive and vibrant lifestyles in individuals and committees as a whole. Sport allows people to make lifestyle choices and a seamless integration of sport with the promotion of drama and motivation is an ideal opportunity to aim to address the pandemic of Aids which is devastating our Nation. Games days, highlighting the Aids Pandemic, were scheduled for nodal points within the Province. These programmes which involved 14000 children were held at Indaka, Dannhauser, Umzimyathi, Ukhahlamba, Msinga and Uthungulu and it worked with a powerful alliance between the Department of Sport and Recreation and the Department of Health, Love Life, Traditional Leaders, and Local Government.

RECREATION

1. BACKGROUND

The Directorate of Recreation has made satisfactory progress in delivering on the mandates of the Department. The Department's Vision is to create a winning province through Sport and Recreation. Winning implies two aspects: on the one hand it means creating healthy, stable and successful communities whilst on the other it means bringing glory and pride to the province through our talented athletes.

Recreation is seen as a key Directorate in creating healthy, stable and successful communities. In this report, the 2005 / 2006 success stories are narrated. Key challenges and future plans are outlined.

2. ACHIEVEMENTS

In 2005 / 2006, the Directorate had set itself some tough targets to achieve. These were as follows:

- Develop seven clear programmes for the disabled, Women, youth, Senior Citizens, Pensioners.
- Train 200 Recreation leaders.
- Create 16 Siyadlala hubs and reach out to 400 000 people.
- Reach 400 000 citizens in the province through community programmes.
- Create partnerships with key stakeholders.
- Stage eight major events across the province as a contribution to recognised National and International days.
- The Directorate also sought to ensure that sufficient resources were provided, personnel in particular.

Some of the achievements can be summarised as follows:

2.1 PERSONNEL

The Directorate has 24 staff compliment. There is one director based at Head Office, 4 Assistant Directors based in the four regions and Recreation officers in the Regions. A contract provincial Mass Participation Provincial Co-ordinator is based at Head Office, assisted by an Administration Clerk. Only one region, Zululand, has office space challenges. In all Regions, Recreation staff seem focused and identify with the Directorate plans.

2.2 PROGRAMMES

There are eight programmes offered under Recreation. These are: Learn to Swim, Siyadlala, Rural Horse Riding, Masidlale, Active Outdoor Youth Adventure, Rece-hab, Indigenous games and Imbokodo. Some of these programmes target a specific section of the community whilst others cut across.

2.3 INDIGENOUS GAMES

These games have been neglected in historical and anthropological studies in South Africa. These games provide an insight into cultural practices, values and customs of various cultures in South Africa. Managed properly, these games could serve as visible and tangible measure of success of the South African Renaissance. They include Induku, Incuva, Inqathu, Umlabalaba, Khokho, Jukskei. The drive to promote these games has been felt across the Province through festivals staged in the following areas:

Mandeni, Kwancedomhlophe, Maphumulo, Umnini, Indwedwe, Greytown, Ingwavuma, Umkhayakude, Jozini, KwaDozini, Mafakathini, uMgababa.

At least 25 000 people have benefited directly from the programme. A successful Provincial festival was staged at Port Durnford attended by the Premier, Mr S. Ndebele. The province also participated in the National games, and was declared the Best Organised province. Setting up proper structures, creation of clubs, ongoing programmes and high profile festivals can be expected in the future.

2.4 IMBOKODO

This programme is primarily driven to affirm women in Sport and Recreation. Women were previously deprived of certain opportunities and this requires affirmative action to redress the trend. All four regions in the province staged festivals to highlight Government commitment. Areas that benefited included KwaMaphumulo, Hammarsdale, Msinga. Women were also included in all other programmes.

Some 45 000 women participated in these programmes. Workshops and courses had also been organised to address capacity issues. Recreation Clubs for Women, Skills upliftment programmes, Provincial Management Structures will be pursued for 2006 / 2007.

2.5 RECRE - HAB

This programme seeks to provide positive alternative healthy lifestyle and diversion for prisoners and street children. The programme seeks to contribute to the rehabilitation process. Staged across the Province, prisoners benefited through weekly and ongoing festivals. These areas were: Qakabusha, Westville, eShowe, uMmzinto, uMmgungundlovu, Glencoe, New prison, eKuseni. At least 5 000 prisoners benefited from this programme.

Skills training is offered to empower prison authorities and prisoners. Creation of clubs, fun leagues, training leaders, interprison festivals, etc, are set for 2006/2007.

2.6 LEARN TO SWIM

These programmes teach people water safety and basic swimming skills whilst encouraging a positive lifestyle. All age groups participated. The programme had been presented successfully in all four regions, in areas such as iNanda, Richards Bay, Dundee, etc. It is estimated that 10 000 people benefited from the programme.

Learn to Swim instructors are also trained. Club formation, training of instructors, fun swimming galas, etc, are planned for 2006/2007.

2.7 YOUTH OUTDOOR ADVENTURE

These programmes provide the youth with an opportunity to explore the wilderness and learn about the environment. In the process the programme seeks to develop character and leadership skills. Key activities included hiking, outdoor team building games, nature education, camping and survival skills. The programmes were piloted in the PMB and eThekweni regions with approximately 1 000 participants. Survivor Kingdom is planned for 2006 / 2007.

2.8 ACTIVE SENIORS

These programmes provide seniors with dignified healthy living. This is one of the most neglected sections of the community. Through collaboration with organisations such as Age in Action, training had been arranged in all regions. No less the sixteen festivals had been staged across the Province in areas such as KwaDukuza, Verulam, KwaMashu, Welbedatch, Msinga, Newcastle, iNdaka, Babanango, eNtumeni, eZimpondweni.

Financial and human resources support had been provided in areas such as KwaMashu, Chatsworth, Clare Estate. In the future the focus would be on rural areas, pension days programme, Festivals, Seniors Recreation Clubs, trained leaders and ongoing programmes.

2.9 MASIDLALE

This is primarily a high profile Community recreation awareness campaign. It seeks to encourage communities to lead an active lifestyle. Various stakeholders such as Local Governments are encouraged to take community well being as a priority. The programme is staged as major events across the four regions. Areas such as Mpumalanga, Cator mannor, iNkandla, Hlabisa, eShowe, Phongolo benefited from the programme. No less than 5 000 people had participated.

2.10 RURAL HORSE RIDING

This activity is a popular past time for African men and young boys in the rural areas. This activity received little attention in the past. Ukutelebhela was the main feature when the festival was staged for the first time as a festival in Dundee, where it had attracted 2000 participants, with 180 horses competing. It was also graced by the presence of the Premier.

In the future attention will be given to development across the Province, weekly events, club formations, formation of Associations and training of Jockeys and Administrators.

2.11 SIYADLALA

This is a National Flagship programme aimed at getting the Nation to play. Its main target groups are the youth, although not exclusively. 16 New hubs or recreational centres were created across the Province. These centres provide a variety of activities for the community including Indigenous Games, Aerobics, and other major sport codes such as Athletics and Netball. 191 youth have been trained to manage and provide activities to the hubs. Benefiting areas include: Esikhawini, KwaMashu, Esidumbini, Nquthu, Steadville, Ebukhalini, Emalangeni, Machibisa, Ingwavuma, Nondweni, Ethekwini, Indaka, Eggumeni, Kwamsane, Maqonqo, Kwamdakane, Dicks, Sundumbili, Bilanyoni, Bhukhanana. Over 400 000 people benefited from this programme in 2005/2006.

Future plans include creation of more hubs, clubs formation, inter-hub competitions, festivals, more youth trained and jobs created. It is worth noting that in most of the programmes, benefiting communities were empowered through training.

3. PARTNERSHIPS

In 2005 / 2006, programmes were presented in partnership with relevant organisations such as

- Local Government
- Senior Citizen groups such as Age in Action
- Sports federations
- Recreational Associations
- Provincial and National Department such Correctional Services
- Women Organisations
- Security and Safety Agencies such as SAPS

The Spirit of co-operation has been raised to another level. Each Stakeholder has a role to play towards achieving one common goal: a better life for all. Such partnerships will be strengthened in 2006 / 2007 through formalised coordinating forums, Regionally and Provincially.

4. CHALLENGES

The achievements highlighted in this report are not an indication of an environment free of challenges. Some of the key constraints experienced this year included:

- Limited ongoing programmes at community / local level.
- Some municipalities still perceive our programmes as a 'nice to do ' venture. Changing this perception needs ongoing effort. Coupled with this is the absence of MOUs between Provincial and municipalities. This at times leads to duplication and territorial protection tendencies.
- Lack of staff to perform at high quality level and speed.
- Balancing quantity and quality of programmes and services in the Regions and clear delivery strategies.
- High public expectations with the advent of a new Department.
- Roll out of all programme across the Province.
- Limited recreation facilities.

5. FUTURE PLANS

In 2006/2007, one can expect consolidation of programme, improved quality and improved service delivery strategies. Amongst other things:

- New programmes targeting children and public employees will be introduced.
- Current existing programmes will be beefed up and spread across Municipalities.
- Focus will be on strong partnerships and Co-operative Governance.
- More focus in disadvantaged areas and groups, but not exclusively.
- A healthy balance between quantity and quality of services.
- Increased number of participants across the Province.
- Improving communication with staff.
- Increased public recreation awareness.

6. CONCLUSION

The 2005 / 2006 financial year has been filled with both excitement and challenges. Much has been achieved in terms of providing programmes that never existed across the Province. Partnerships have been created, and for many, recreational services are reaching them for the first time. Given the challenges highlighted, it would be fair to suggest that the Directorate has done a satisfactory job in creating a winning province.

Looking ahead, greater focus should be placed on continuation, innovation, improving programmes quality and facilitate partnerships.
